TODAY'S PANEL – Sunday 8 March

Katrina Sedgwick

Katrina Sedgwick has been Director/CEO of ACMI (the Australian Centre for the Moving Image) since 2015, where she is leading a vision for a $40m transformation for the museum, due to reopen mid-2020. She has a particular interest in supporting cross-disciplinary practice, and has an extensive background as a commissioner, creative producer, and festival director. From 2012 – 14 she was Head of Arts for the national broadcaster ABC TV, and between 2002 – 11 she was the founding Director/CEO of Adelaide Film Festival, and its $1m Investment Fund, supporting a multi award winning slate of films and installation works.

Erma Ranieri

Erma Ranieri is the Commissioner for Public Sector Employment serving South Australia. Erma has worked for more than 30 years to help organisations optimise productivity and employee wellbeing. She was named a 2014 Telstra Business Woman of the Year as SA Winner of the Telstra Community and Government Award for her role in leading transformational change throughout the public sector.

Jessica Leo-Kelton

Jessica Leo-Kelton joined The Advertiser as a cadet in 2006. In 2015 she took up the role of Messenger Newspapers Editor-in-Chief overseeing the production of 11 weekly suburban titles and a monthly lifestyle magazine. Then in late 2017, Jess was promoted to Deputy Editor at The Advertiser and Sunday Mail. After just 18 months as Deputy Editor, Jessica is now the Sunday Mail Editor.
